

ANDREW PETERSON

Lehi Centennial History 1850-1950

Andrew Peterson was born December 5, 1865, the son of Andrew A. Peterson and Mary Ann Pherson Peterson. He helped his father on the farm and with the sheep while a boy, and later in early manhood he had a sheep herd of his own. He sold his sheep and built a home in the southwest part of Lehi City.

He married Sarah Emma Webb, October 28, 1891, in the Manti Temple.

He was a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and worked in several offices. Among them were Sunday School teacher, Ward teacher, Elder, Seventy, and High Priest.

He was a director of the Lehi Irrigation Company. His vocation in life was farming. He was honorable and honest and perhaps his outstanding qualification was his honesty, patience, and tolerance. He died April 18, 1923, at his home in Lehi.
